Detroit Officials Deny Failure Of Justice

DETROIT (AP) — Law enforcement in Detroit, including police, judges, prosecutors and lawyers, was a failure during and after the city's July riot, a University of Michigan panel has charged.

The panel said it found evidence of police brutality, confusion and unfairness in the city's Recorder's courts, and that lawyers did not respond in the numbers needed to defend riot prisoners.

The panel's kindest words were for the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office. But even it was criticized for acting too much as a legal mouthpiece for police.

The legal system in the city and county failed to administer justice fairly, said the panelists, and so planted seeds of bitterness that may spawn another riot.

The panel consisted of:

Judge John Emery, the president and chief defender of the Legal Aid and Defender Association of the Detroit Bar.

William Bledsoe, an assistant state attorney general assigned to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission.

Weekend Meeting
Dr. Nathan S. Caplan, a University of Michigan sociologist studying the causes of the riot.

The panel met for a discussion over the weekend at the university's Lawyers' Club, with Prof. Yale Kamisar of the university's law faculty moderating.

Caplan said that police brutality involved such things as abuse of riot prisoners by their guards and running water on the jail floors to keep prisoners from sitting or lying down; often for two days or longer. So many persons told the same stories, he said, they had to be believed.

"The riot's damage to justice was irreversible," he said. "The people have developed a real feeling of black consciousness and a feeling of the police being blue fascists."

Emery, a municipal judge in suburban Birmingham and chairman of the civil liberties committee and the criminal law committee of the Detroit Bar Association, was critical of both judges and lawyers.

Few Lawyers Responded
The 700 lawyers who volunteered to represent riot defendants amounted to only 10 or 15 per cent of those in Detroit's Wayne County, he said, and only three lawyers responded to a letter sent to every attorney in neighboring Oakland County.

The whole emphasis in Recorder's Court during the riots was on restoring law and order, even at the expense of a person's rights, he said. "They lined the defendants up like pigs, 25 at a time. The prisoners were on the old Detroit assembly line, with the Detroit sound," he said.

"The judges' attitude was: 'Sure, a whole lot of innocent people may suffer.' The policy was $10,000 bond across the board and one friend of mine decided on $25,000," he said.

Bledsoe said the Michigan Civil Rights Commission began putting observers in police stations and places of detention toward the end of the week of the riot.

"A couple of our observers were escorted from police stations at the end of bayonets," he said.

Defend Performance
City and county officials defended their performance, pointing out that the riot imposed monumental burdens on the legal apparatus.

"Never in the history of civilization have the constitutional rights of people engaged in civil disorder been so well protected," said Wayne Prosecutor William Cahalan.

A judge, in response to charges the courts used assembly-line methods in handling prisoners, said: "We had no way of knowing whether there was a revolution in progress or whether the city was going to be burned down or what."

Executive Recorder's Court Judge Vincent J. Brennan said, "A lot of the colored community think we've been too hard on the prisoners. That's not our feeling at all. Our only concern is whether they're guilty or innocent, not whether they're white or black."

Brennan also said that each case was treated on its own merits and that many defendants who pleaded guilty to minor charges had their sentences adjusted to the time they had already spent in jail.

House Is Arena Of Spending Cut Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another fiscal donnybrook confronts Congress this week, with the House the arena for action. Involved, as they have been for weeks, are the issues of taxes, spending, appropriations and whether Congress or the President should take the lead in putting the federal financial house in order.

The big battle comes Wednesday when the House acts on a fourth emergency appropriation bill to put money into the coffers of government agencies whose regular appropriations for the year that started July 1 have not cleared Congress. Their emergency funding expires next Monday.

The shape of the emergency measure is to be molded at a meeting of the Appropriations Committee today.

Ask $5 Billion Cut
Republicans are trying to tie to the bill a requirement that the President cut spending for the fiscal year by at least $5 billion. The President claims that assignment can't be carried out until all the appropriation bills become law.

The GOP came within eight votes of winning when they tried that approach to enforced economy Oct. 3.

Appropriations Committee Democrats are convinced the Senate would not accept the GOP plan. That could cause a House-Senate deadlock that would be difficult to break by next Monday.

They huddled with Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., and tossed around several alternative proposals Friday but reached no decision.

Freeze Employment
There was strong sentiment, however, for a requirement that the President freeze government employment until Congress finishes its appropriation tasks.

If the Senate went along, that would give Congress a breathing spell to finish the appropriation bills and give the Appropriations Committee time to draft another measure taking back some of the money Congress has appropriated this year and in past years.

Four appropriations bills, all compromises, could be disposed of this week, leaving only a few in the legislative mill. The compromises carry money for military construction programs, the space program and a score of other agencies.

Congress' Duty
Mahon has promised to present later in the session a general bill rescinding specific appropriations already made. He takes the position that Congress, not the President, should decide where cuts should be made.

The GOP proposal for a mandatory $5 billion reduction doesn't spell out the areas for cuts.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee has not changed his insistence that before his group will even consider the President's request for tax increases, there must be concrete evidence of sharp cuts in spending. His committee colleagues support his position. It doesn't care who wields the economy axe so long as it falls heavily.

A blaze threatened homes in the residential suburb of Whit-tier about 15 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

It burned right up to the back doors of some houses," a Los Angeles County fire official said, but the flames were contained before there was any structural damage.

In Santa Paula, 100 miles northwest of Los Angeles, two ranches were destroyed in a blaze that had swept across 16,000 acres.

California Fires Burn 26 Homes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A searing brush fire swept into another Los Angeles residential area today, boosting to 26 the number of homes left gutted in its path and threatening about 100 more on nearby hillsides.

The fire near suburban Chatsworth about 30 miles northwest of Los Angeles was one of two major blazes which have blackened an estimated 26,000 acres and left one person dead since Sunday.

Tired firemen, who battled through the night, said the major danger was that hot, dry winds might return.

At the most destructive point of the 10,000-acre Chatsworth fire four homes were reported destroyed today.

Some 100 other stood in the path of the flames.

There were 22 homes destroyed Sunday in the area.

1,000 Firemen Called
To the southwest—about 10 charred miles away—a second fire front burned toward new homes about three miles east of Thousand Oaks. However, firemen said no homes there were immediately threatened.

About 1,000 firemen fought the fingers of fire which nibbled over hills and into canyons and gullies.

Fire officials said the Chatsworth blaze combined with a 3,000-acre fire in the Simi Valley of southern Ventura County. Both fires were burning on a 20-mile perimeter bordering U.S. 101, the Ventura Freeway.

In addition to the 22 homes destroyed, Battalion Capt. Jake S. Dukes said, the Chatsworth blaze damaged 30 homes. Red Cross workers set up a shelter at a nearby church.

"I lost everything," said Edward Collins whose home went up in flames, "everything—house and furnishings. My son and daughter lost their home too. I got to fight the fire until it got so hot I had to leave. Now I have nowhere to go. All I have is on my back—jeans, trousers and shoes."

No homes were damaged in Simi but a tract of homes near

Parents Seek To Abandon School Still In Dispute

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP) — A group of 150 to 200 parents, contending there's no hope of settling the North Dearborn Heights teacher strike, have begun circulating petitions to dissolve the district.

The petitions declare a state of emergency in the district and call on the State Board of Education to dissolve it. If five per cent—or 252—of the district's voters sign, the state will investigate.

More than 60 of the district's 79 teachers, members of the North Dearborn Heights Federation of Teachers, resigned last month in protest of a back-to-work court order.

The teachers said that if the strike had not been settled by Saturday, they would start looking for jobs elsewhere.

The district's six schools have been operating for about a month, using 35 nonstriking teachers, 15 nonunion members and 35 new teachers and substitutes.

Mrs. C.F. Geiger, head of the parents' group, the citizens for Quality Education, said the district has already lost state aid for remedial reading classes.

"If the state puts sanctions on the district, next year not one qualified teacher will come to work here. That means the school district is doomed," she said.

Earlier this month, Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, asked for a report on what he called "grave deficiencies" in the district's school system.

A state education official said over the weekend that if the state investigates, it will be "two or three months" before any ruling.

Mistake Bomb Kills 3 Marines

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Marine plane, accidentally hit the Marine outpost of Con Thien with a bomb Sunday, killing three Marines and wounding nine in the second mistaken bombing there in three days.

Communist shellfire wounded another eight Marines at the muddy base guarding Red infiltration routes just south of the demilitarized zone.

A mistaken bombing Friday killed two Marines and wounded 21. Both incidents were being investigated.

The defenders of Con Thien came under repeated, savage shelling last month from North Vietnamese believed attempting to take the outpost but overwhelming American firepower beat back the assaults.

U.S. B-52 bombers, which play a major role in the battle around Con Thien, swept into North Vietnam 50 miles above the demilitarized zone, their deepest raid in 10 months, and blasted the Mu Gia Pass. This is the main entry to the Ho Chi Minh trail, which carries Communist troops and supplies through Laos and Cambodia to South Vietnam.

HK Storage Sites
The eight-engine, 38-million-pounders are usually kept away from possible danger from North Vietnamese missiles, which can reach them even at the 30,000-foot altitudes where they fly.

The bombers struck truck parks, supply concentrations and fuel storage sites at the pass after coming from Thailand over Laos so they would be in North Vietnam only briefly.

Today, they were back pounding a suspected Red infiltration route 10 miles above Con Thien and a suspected buildup point 2.5 miles southwest of the Marine fortress.

Weather hampered strikes against North Vietnam Sunday and halted all raids around the vital port of Haiphong but the man who has commanded the Haiphong campaign promised

Chief industry spokesman John P. Hiltz Jr. said the railroads decided against going into federal court to try to upset the wage increases, which Hiltz previously called "clearly inflationary."

"Our people have had to wait a long, long time for a pay increase," said chief union spokesman Thomas Ramsey. "I know they will be happy to get the money."

Congress created the presidential board in a special law to halt a two-day nationwide rail strike last July and gave the board power to impose the wage terms if there was no voluntary agreement. The law also forbade any further strike until Jan. 1, 1969.

Ford Hints It's Willing To Pay Annual Incomes

South Vietnam Acts Against Corruption

SAIGON (AP) — American officials believe that for the first time they have successfully pressured South Vietnamese present leaders into some major reforms.

But U.S. sources say the reforms have only scratched the surface. Much depends, they say, on how the new regime of President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President-elect Nguyen Cao Ky behaves.

Recent evidence of effective U.S. pressure, one source said, was the removal of six province chiefs and from 40 to 50 district chiefs on charges of corruption and incompetence. Yet there were signs that at least some of the reforms were triggered by personal rivalries rather than a desire for good government.

In a parallel development, reliable sources said U.S. and Vietnamese officials have worked out a major overhaul of the much-criticized pacification program to win over the countryside from the Communists.

General Boosted
The plan gives Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, a Vietnamese general regarded by U.S. officials as hard-working, shrewd and incorruptible, greater powers to carry out the program. U.S. sources believe he may be able to claim honest success in 80 per cent of 1,100 hamlets where he has started pacification work.

Thang, father of the latest pacification program but apparently waning in influence several months ago, will become deputy chief of the joint general staff and de facto commander of the territorial security forces. He will have wide powers to weed out corrupt regional officials.

In a further effort to press South Vietnam's "other war," the U.S. Embassy announced plans to increase to 41 from 21 the number of American relief experts trying to help civilian refugees. Much of the job will be to make sure funds and supplies meant for the refugees get to them and not to corrupt Vietnamese officials.

Aid Refugees
The refugee program has come under sharp attack in the U.S. Senate, notably by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee, on refugees. The United States is paying nearly $25.5 million in refugee aid money.

Official figures show 700,000 refugees in camps or shelters but authorities say twice as many may be homeless because of the war.

U.S. pressure for reform is believed to include placing Thieu's junta on notice that the United States would not tolerate any attempt to brush aside the country's newly elected Congress in favor of rule by decree.

A qualified source described both Thieu and Ky as reform-minded but would not extend this description to the rest of the officers making up the present military government.

Decision In 6 Weeks
Romney said he would announce his decision on whether to seek the GOP presidential nomination within six weeks.

Insisting that he had not yet made up his mind, Romney said that if he decides to run "it will be because I expect to win both" the nomination and the election.

If he becomes a candidate, Romney said, he will enter the New Hampshire presidential primary despite current polls that indicate former Vice President Richard Nixon is a 2-to-1 favorite.

"I'm used to being an underdog," he said, "I've been an underdog in everything I've done of consequence throughout my life."

One Report Has Bargainers But 15 Cents Apart

DETROIT (AP) — A bargaining table source said today Ford Motor Co. has given the United Auto Workers what he termed "an inkling" it is willing to meet the UAW's No. 1 demand—a guaranteed annual income—in a new contract.

The source added that no guaranteed annual income offer is now on the bargaining table at which Ford and the UAW are seeking an end to a strike which entered its 40th day today.

The UAW made a million dollar gift recently to the United Rubber Workers union which won, at the end of a 91-day strike, a guaranteed income of 80 per cent of a worker's straight time wage.

UAW leaders made no secret at that time of their hope the auto industry would come up with a guarantee of 90 per cent or more.

In its only publicly disclosed offer to date, Ford ignored the demand for a guaranteed annual income, one under which the UAW says a worker must know at the beginning of a year what his pay will be for the next 12 months, any layoffs not withstanding.

Ignored In Offers
Along with General Motors and Chrysler which made offers simultaneously with it, Ford had indicated its most strenuous opposition to any of the union's many new contract demands likely would be on that for a guaranteed annual income. It was ignored entirely by all three firms in initial offers.

Ford made a new offer last Tuesday but that one has been cloaked in secrecy because of a news blackout which both sides agreed to clamp on and which still is in effect.

The source of the "inkling" indication report declined to be identified by name or affiliation.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, were expected to head the bargaining teams in the third straight day of face-to-face talks.

They met for 10 hours Sunday, but neither side reported the results of that session.

A news blackout the two sides imposed at 9 p.m. Tuesday remained in effect.

The strike by 160,000 Ford workers is almost six weeks old with a total wage loss the company estimates at more than $140 million. The damage to Ford's business won't be fully known for months to come, but its new car sales in the first 10 days of this month were 60,000 below those of the same period a year ago.

Workers struck at 11:30 p.m. Sept. 6 when the old three-year contract expired.

Reuther Declines Hint
Prior to the 9 p.m. Sunday recess, there had been speculation that settlement was so close

BAY CITY (AP) — Airman 1.C. Glen Wright, 23, died today in a Bay City hospital from a bullet wound suffered Sunday while hunting squirrels near Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Escanaba, where he was stationed.

City, Employees Face Bargaining Changes

By CLINT DUNATHAN

City managers in Michigan and a growing number of states foresee an end to face-to-face bargaining with employees on wages and working conditions.

Replacing the present system will be the hiring by the cities of professional bargainers to represent the municipalities in their negotiations with labor unions.

This was the general consensus of city managers who attended the convention of International City Managers Association held in New Orleans last week, reports Escanaba City Manager George Harvey.

"It appears to the managers that they are going to have to utilize the services of professional bargainers. Other states have their eyes on Michigan, where Act 347 adopted by the legislature in 1965 provides for union representation of public employees," Harvey noted.

Hear Union Leader

The application of Act 347 in Michigan has been marked by strikes of teachers, controversy, and absenteeism short of strikes among public employees.

City managers anticipate that organized labor will after its success in putting Act 347 on the books in Michigan, be influential in having similar statutes adopted in other states.

"Apparently other states also see the handwriting on the wall," said Harvey.

The convention heard Jerry Wurf, head of Municipal Employees' Unions, report that he believes that civil service is no longer effective in meeting the employees' needs, and that municipal labor will follow the collective bargaining road in the future.

Hard And Fast

"That subject of collective bargaining was, in my opinion the most important one to come before the convention," the Escanaba city manager said.

The effect of collective bargaining and the drawing of hard and fast contracts will end a controversial but often mutually agreeable labor relations arrangements between employees and city administrations.

Both the city and its employees will, when the terms of a contract spell out a formal and impersonal relationship, be made strictly responsible to that contract. For example, if the terms of the contract fail to provide for an employee's time off to attend funerals, no time could be granted.

Michigan, a leader in labor legislation for public employees, is also being watched by cities and school districts and counties in other states to learn how the new system will work.

Law Questioned

Some aspects of the law are being questioned. For instance, Escanaba City Council is carrying to the Supreme Court an appeal from a ruling of the Labor Mediation Board that it must recognize the Teachers Union as bargaining agent for Escanaba Police officers.

The city contends that a conflict of interest would result if law officers are represented by other than associations of police in collective bargaining, while the Teachers take the position that Act 347 fully entitles the union to act as bargaining agent for the police.

The problems arising from the "new look" in public employee labor relations in Michigan are expected to be echoed in other states in the future, and the International City Managers Association gave the subject more than passing attention.

Harvey talked to one of the group sessions at the convention on the topic of "Public Relations" and suggested pitfalls to avoid as well as policies to follow.

The Association elected City Manager John Patriarche of East Lansing as its new president, and scheduled the 1968 annual meeting in Detroit next fall.

Milk Industry Skids In U.P.

September recorded a slump in Upper Peninsula dairy industry in every department, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, administering the area's milk marketing order.

Volume of milk production, number of producers, sales and prices were all down in the month, as compared with a year ago.

The blend (average) price was $4.829 per hundredweight compared with $5.058 and Class 1 (drinking) milk production was 7.1 million pounds compared with 7.6 million. Class 2 (manufacture milk) was 2.1 million compared with 2.6 and the total was 9.3 million, down from 10.3. Marketing of milk in Class 1 was up slightly.

Daily average producer receipts were 310,274 pounds, down from 343,985, the total number of producers slipped from 495 to 430 and income was $461,872 compared with $540,001.

Robert Victor, assistant staff astronomer at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium, says the lunar eclipse will be visible, weather permitting, beginning at 4:23 a.m.

That's when the moon begins to enter the umbra or the dark inner central portion of the earth's shadow. The shadow is caused by the earth passing between the sun and the moon.

The moon will be half covered by about 5 a.m., completely covered at 5:45 a.m. and the total eclipse will end at 6:45 a.m. when the moon emerges from the shadow.

The view from Michigan will end at 8:01 a.m. when the moon sets, Victor says.

If the sky is quite clear, he adds, it will be possible to view simultaneously the sun in the East and the partially eclipsed moon in the West since the sun rises at 7:45 a.m. in Central Michigan.

The next total lunar eclipse visible in Michigan is due on April 2, 1968.

Early Risers Can See Eclipse Of Moon Wednesday

EAST LANSING (AP)—If you get out of bed in time Wednesday you can see Michigan's first total eclipse of the moon since 1964. And you'll have to wait until next April to see another one.

Robert Victor, assistant staff astronomer at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium, says the lunar eclipse will be visible, weather permitting, beginning at 4:23 a.m.

That's when the moon begins to enter the umbra or the dark inner central portion of the earth's shadow. The shadow is caused by the earth passing between the sun and the moon.

The moon will be half covered by about 5 a.m., completely covered at 5:45 a.m. and the total eclipse will end at 6:45 a.m. when the moon emerges from the shadow.

The view from Michigan will end at 8:01 a.m. when the moon sets, Victor says.

If the sky is quite clear, he adds, it will be possible to view simultaneously the sun in the East and the partially eclipsed moon in the West since the sun rises at 7:45 a.m. in Central Michigan.

The next total lunar eclipse visible in Michigan is due on April 2, 1968.

Mack Amends Road Package For U.P. Freeway

State Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) has proposed amended Senate Bill No. 14 of the Governor's Good Roads package to include a 300-mile road building program in the Upper Peninsula.

The Mack amendment commits the Highway Department, by legislative intent, to match federal funds for an Interstate East-West highway through the Upper Peninsula.

In a coordinated action Mack co-sponsored another amendment to the Good Roads bills to provide for an extension of Highway 31 from Ludington to Petoskey in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and to the Mackinac Bridge.

Mack predicted prompt action on the bills in the House of Representatives.

Use Styrofoam In Schools At Bloomfield Test

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. Construction of the first spirally-generated school classroom buildings employing styrofoam as the structural material was begun at Roeper City and Country School today.

Six buildings, 33 feet in diameter, will be generated on the site at the rate of approximately one per day, using a system and materials developed by the Dow Chemical Co. in Midland.

The foundations are being prepared, simultaneously, and the students of the school plan to demonstrate the lightness of the structures by carrying one of the domes to its foundation when this has been reached.

Two larger domes, 67 feet in diameter, will be erected on their foundations after the lesser domes have been made.

George A. Roeper, headmaster of the school, states, "The eight domes, related structures, interior and exterior finishing, and essential furnishings and site development, will cost nearly $375,000. The D. M. Perry, Jr., Trustee Corp., has contributed $100,000 for the project. The Dow Chemical Co. is contributing the spiral generation process and the styrofoam. The Detroit Edison Co. has made a substantial contribution towards the electrical heating and air conditioning of the buildings.

The Roeper School is the Midwest's first for gifted children.

New Logging For U.P. Is Proposed

By JEAN WORTH
ST. IGNACE — Northern Michigan's own idea of what's most needed from government in the way of an economic development demonstration was expressed here by the Michigan Advisory Task Force of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission on Oct. 6.

Actually, all three states in the region—Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota—seem to think that adequate freeways are the No. 1 need of the area for development, but they cannot be demonstrated in a modest project.

So Michigan's Task Force, after several meetings and consideration of several demonstration projects, urged that the region accept from Michigan a wood industry demonstration as its contribution.

The project is now being written to meet a November deadline for submission of projects to the commission, which decided recently that it didn't want to wait for final action on its major development program, but should immediately initiate demonstration projects.

U. P. Project
Minnesota chose a land classification and iron ore development project and Wisconsin a lake rehabilitation project.

Michigan's Task Force, headed by Mayor Harold Vanierbergh of Escanaba, had many ideas about what a wood industry demonstration should include, but decided that such a project would be most useful to the area. The final form of the project still is a little hazy, but its major elements are now clearer.

As drafted by a sub-committee of the task force headed by Myron Riggs, of Cheboygan, head of the Northern Michigan Development Council, it proposed two demonstrations, one in the Lower Peninsula and one in the Upper Peninsula, but this isn't going to happen.

Returns Too Low
Warren Smith, head of U.S. Plywood Corp., at Gaylord, said that two projects couldn't do more than one and that the Lower Peninsula didn't need a demonstration if there was one in the U. P. There was considerable dissent from this view from the Lower Peninsula group, however. They said the mechanized logging demonstration, for instance, should be greatly helpful to wood harvesters in the northern Lower Peninsula.

But Michigan State Department of Commerce officials (they're staffing the state participation in the Northern Great Lakes Regional Commission) say that practically there won't be two Michigan demonstrations because there won't be funds for two.

The demonstration project attacks a basic problem of logging: Costs of wood production are high and returns are low.

Plan Corporation
The U. P. has "single product" logging in which the logger takes out one product—often only one species—instead of making an inclusive cut and then distributing the pulpwood, sawlogs, veneer logs, cedar posts, box bolts, etc., to their respective markets.

Single product logging results in inefficient wood harvesting, forest management and marketing.

The project will demonstrate how the Upper Peninsula and the rest of the three-state region can upgrade its forests and make them more profitable. It will do it by setting up a corporation under sponsorship of Operation Action-U. P. and the Northern Michigan Development Council to conduct the demonstration.

Harvest Pools
The demonstration will undertake to show how part of a big area of forest (the U. P. is more than 80 per cent forested) can be managed for forestry despite many separate and diverse ownerships, so that harvest agreements cover large areas, offer their services to all woodland owners, provide expert forester counsel on stand management, and provide a market service for the wood produced.

Success in such a demonstration would provide the first big breakthrough in one of the U. P.'s biggest forestry problems—getting the little forest owners, with only a few forests each, to put their forests under expert management for stand improvement and increased value.

The demonstration would seek the best use for timber. This doesn't always happen now. "Too much veneer wood goes to the pulp pile," say the mills, because the logging operation is producing only pulpwood. The increasing incidence of sawmills at paper mills shows that best usage practices are gaining.

Logging Skills
A major phase of the demonstration will be modern wood harvesting techniques in the forests. The Upper Lakes loggers need improved methods to make their logging costs more competitive with those of other areas where mechanization is more advanced.

Better methods of wood forwarding will be demonstrated, with possible use of concentration yards for products which do not move directly from the forest to the millyard.

Another phase will be the training of woods workers to upgrade their skills and enlarge their income so that they can earn more than a marginal living. This effort would endeavor to give the woods workers more of the benefits of industrial affluence which has until now been shared more fully by the mill workers.

The present seasonal quality of woods work would be attacked.

Management skills would also be demonstrated as a part of the project.

New Yorker Says Romney Ineligible

NEW YORK (AP) — A constitutional law expert entering a three-year-old controversy, says Gov. George Romney of Michigan is constitutionally ineligible to be president because he was born in Mexico.

York Law School takes issue with Romney's view that there is no constitutional bar to his being president.

Blum writes in a New York Law Journal article to be published next week that although Romney was a citizen from birth because his parents were American citizens, he does not meet the constitutional requirement that only a "natural born citizen" can be president.

Scott Romney Has Surgery

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Scott Romney, 26, son of Michigan Gov. George Romney, underwent surgery Sunday for the removal of a gangrenous appendix.

Scott's wife, Ronna, said he was taken to Mt. Auburn Hospital early Sunday, and operated on about eight hours later. "The doctor told me the appendix hadn't ruptured, but he said they got to it just in time," Mrs. Romney said. "The doctor said it was gangrenous."

A hospital spokesman said that Scott Romney was in "good condition today."

He is expected to remain in the hospital at least five days, Mrs. Romney said.

Romney is a second year student at Harvard Law School. He and his wife live in Watertown, a Boston suburb.

Governor Romney nixed any time for discussion of appropriations for education in this special session of the Legislature. This brought the displeasure of educators, PTA groups and many private citizens down upon him.

But there are growing indications that it was a popular action and that it is another indication that the people are getting their back up about the ever increasing cost of schooling.

Senator Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair), an insurance and real estate man who has served 9 terms in the Legislature and who is chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, told a meeting of the State School Boards Association in Detroit last month of his great weariness at the charges of educators that the Legislature hasn't done enough for the schools.

Senator Beadle is dealing here with a huge problem. As a legislator and businessman and not an educator he may be more familiar with the huge new cost of schooling than with its changing role in our society.

When he says that in the past 10 years the state has increased its spending on education 109.5 per cent, while average increase in all state funds was only 78.5 per cent he intends a devastating statistic, but it would be very dangerous to judge the sufficiency of our educational expenditures by their size alone. So that they have increased more than any other kind of state spending is certainly pertinent information, but it is not a sole judgment on the adequacy of such spending.

Never before have our people had the need for such a large amount of basic knowledge and facility in learning as they do today. If, for instance, what seems to legislators an inordinate amount of spending on education can reduce the state's spending on welfare services we have achieved a triumph of government.

We say these things to frame the picture that Senator Beadle paints for the people of Michigan, lest there be an indiscriminating rush to accept any ideas that would be spending too much on education, or that we can spend less, or that the educational establishment is not realistic.

Senator Beadle said he was a little tired of having the Legislature made the daily whipping boy of education and that he believed that if education had its own taxing power that it would get far less from the people than it gets from the Legislature. If your finger is on the public pulse, I'm sure you will find that it is beating much less excitedly for education than it has in the past. These (teacher) strikes have done education a lot of harm. People complain to us constantly about the unnecessary things in education.

"One of the biggest problems today is that when school boards present unrealistic programs to their local people and they are voted down, the boards immediately run to Lansing to get state aid to bail them out. Or, in many cases, when a millage proposal is defeated, things like football, basketball and band are cut out because they are the most popular with the people — not because they are the most expensive.

"Many school administrators," said Senator Beadle "seem to have a blind spot when it comes to going over their curriculum seriously and questioning things that have been there for years but which, on closer scrutiny, have questionable value. Swimming pools are delightful, but how essential are they to a sound education? There has to be a decelerating point somewhere in education, just as in other agencies of government, because the people who pay the bill are getting their backs up."

Beadle said the Legislature provided for education in Michigan this year $906.9 million and this didn't include local school taxes, nor buildings for higher education. The total for all was well over a billion dollars, an increase of $78 million in one year. Ten years ago teacher retirement spending by the state cost taxpayers only $19.7 million a year. This year it is $111.3 million.

Ten years ago education got 37.6 per cent of state taxes; last year it got 44.1 per cent, a rate increase of 17.2 per cent.

The prospect as we see it: Continued high spending, with a reduction in the proportionate number of teachers employed in effort for economy and for quality education.

Negro Is No. 3 Man Of Detroit Police Officials

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro Friday became the third-highest police official in Detroit's Police Department.

Stanley C. Rich, 47, was named second deputy commissioner by Police Commissioner Ray Girardin.

Rich will direct police business activities, a role not directly related to on-the-street law enforcement activities.

He will, however, supervise all civilian employees of the department and be responsible for such matters as the return of confiscated or stolen property to the owners.

Rich succeeds Robert A. Lathan, who left the department Sept. 1 to be an associate professor of police administration at Wayne State University.

Rich has been a city employee since 1947 and has been active in the Total Action Against Poverty program in Detroit.

KOBE
Raymond O. Fish, who was Harnischfeger Corp. truck crane plant manager in Escanaba for several years, is now serving Harnischfeger in Japan with Kobe Steel Ltd., which manufactures P&H machines for sale in the Orient.

Fish writes from Kobe: "This is a strange, strange land. It is a land of such contrasts within a very confined area as to be hardly believable. While the U.S. has its extremes in contrast they generally blend from one degree to another much less perceptibly than they do in Japan. Of course when you recognize that only about 30 per cent of the total land area is truly habitable and that area (total area) is less than the State of California and supports 100 million people, then the contrasts are more likely to stand out in sharp relief. Another point of interest is that no part of Japan is more than 65 miles from the sea.

We have been in Japan six months. Our assimilation of the language has been very slow. Despite all of the teaching of English in the schools the results are not particularly outstanding. English is taught more towards translating written English into Japanese. It is sort of a one-way street. If worse comes to worse, you can always write out your requirements in block letters and they can understand in many cases but have no way of truly letting you know when, or where, or how your request will be fulfilled.

The regular tourist routes and military establishments, of course, attract the average Japanese that can speak English. Many of the metropolitan department stores will have several on each floor. When you live day in and day out among them you run into a different class who have no real incentive to practice English and probably could care less. However, a popular form of activity of many Americans over here is having small groups of young Japanese in their homes regularly for English conversation.

Many of my working contacts speak English with varying degrees of proficiency. This is necessary of course since a large percentage of machines produced here by Kobe Steel & P&H design are exported to all points of the world.

Several of the people I work with over here were in Escanaba during the past summer. They were generally there just for the day but saw enough of the town to recall certain spots.

With a short wave radio we listen to the Far East Network of the Armed Forces from Tokyo and are kept reasonably informed of Stateside news. Three newspapers printed in English are available in Kobe, and international editions of Look, Newsweek, Time, Fortune are fairly current. Other magazines are imported and of course are quite dated.

Everything over here is on a six day week basis and in many cases seven. Since there is little Christianity in Japan the concept of Sunday as a day of worship and rest carries little significance. Mail is delivered seven days a week and two or three times a day. Mailmen use bicycles or scooters for house to house delivery and each must know his area intimately due to all the passages and narrow alleys that houses front upon. This in addition to the fact that street co-ordinates and addresses as we know them do not exist. Department stores stagger their days closed so the downtown area is always one of bustling activity.

Traffic is murder and getting worse as they are building cars much faster than roadways, streets, and parking places to accommodate them. Trains are the best way to get around and then supplemented by taxis. Cars are small or corresponding to American compacts. Trucks run from the very small up to very large but few trailer and tractor combinations. Less than 20 per cent of all roadways in Japan are more than 16 feet wide and this width has to accommodate trucks, buses, cars, scooters, bicycles, push carts, small riding tractors and trailers and pedestrians. Occasionally two buses or trucks will meet head on in one of the small villages, narrow streets and then the fun begins. Somebody has to back up until they can find a wide enough spot to pass.

We are well and healthy having survived the Chinese "A" bomb fallout, several typhoons, torrential rains, landslides, and high winds as a result of near-misses with typhoons. We have experienced several small earthquakes, one of which while described as small has convinced me that I don't want to experience any of them much larger.

While we have had moments of apprehension due to the elements, it has been most interesting. Sometimes amusing, sometimes frustrating, but always interesting.

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA)—In all the future of the dilemma of the cities, it is increasingly clear that, as social mechanisms, they are being measured against a romantic ideal that has never been approached in this country's modern urban history.

Like the state of marriage, the cities seem to be viewed by many interested parties as performers of social magic. Just enter this magic state, the message appears to read, and you can expect your needs to be met and your problems to be solved nearly overnight.

As with young married couples disillusioned with marriage after having invested too much hope in it, the complainants against the cities assign massive blame to these sprawling complexes for their failure to cope quickly and adequately with all of society's ills.

But the critics' expectations have been and are too high. The cities, since they are a product of human effort, always have been imperfect organisms.

As this observer noted at the height of the summer clamor for "the rebuilding of our cities," they have been grossly inadequate living places for sizeable elements of the American population for many decades. Nothing much was done about it when the most slum dwellers were white, though many areas were very bad.

Now the problem is magnified by the great inward flow of the rural Negro poor, the Appalachian and other hill country whites, the economically disadvantaged rural folk nationwide.

To imagine that the cities somehow would be "ready" for this tide, which continues to day and may grow stronger, is to dream wildly.

Looking hard at this notion, one has to say it presumes large areas of adequate housing with suitable schools, a wide array of training programs geared for constant expansion, an almost unlimited supply of job opportunities—all held in a great reservoir to be tapped as needed.

The total impracticability of this proposition is obvious. The cities not only do not have such readiness, they never have had it, even when the inward flow of people was far smaller.

The truth is, the cities are in the grip of social and economic forces mostly not of their making at all. They did not invite the tide, except insofar as their growing affluence makes them inevitable magnets for the disadvantaged who are outside their orbits.

In the next week or so, 1,000 Appalachian whites and 3,000 southern rural Negroes may make individual and family decisions to leave their areas and move into Baltimore or Detroit or Chicago.

Soon after they check in, some public figure or social analyst is sure to rise and say: "Baltimore (for example) is not coping with the urgent need of its mounting numbers of poor people for jobs, housing and schooling."

The need is real, the problem of dealing with it is indeed urgent, and those who try to dodge it run the risk of the greatest social explosions in American history. But neither Baltimore, nor Detroit, nor Chicago created the dilemma here spoken of. And there is no point whatsoever in stigmatizing the cities as "evil places" bent perversely upon crushing their inhabitants.

Responsibility for the urban dilemma rests widely upon modern American industrial society as a whole. The forces at work are big, the problems the same.

The urban militants, who deplore any fixing of blame upon individuals for their transgressions, would have a lot more energy left for the problems we must all attack, if they broke off wasting it in senseless, futile, sometimes venomous attempts to personify the cities as "villains." Mostly, they are nothing of the sort.

Opening lead—♠ Q

You don't get to be a great bridge player by sitting back in a rocking chair and waiting for sure thing bids. You have to take calculated risks from time to time.

If Eric Murray's eight-point vulnerable double of South's one no-trump response had backfired at him, we can see the chorus of criticism from the defeatist players—who criticize beautifully and never win when and if they get to the table against tough competition.

Anyway, this double in the World's Championship Match worked to perfection. North saw no reason to run. Sammy Kehela with his nice East hand was delighted to pass. South had reason to think that a run-out to diamonds would be a case of out of the frying pan into the fire. Actually two diamonds would only go down one trick but South could not tell that North held a good five card diamond suit.

West opened the queen of spades and continued the suit after South ducked in. Both hands South's nine diamonds drew the queen and ace. Kehela won the next diamond with the ten and led a low club to Murray. Ten. Murray cleared the spade suit and eventually the defense collected three clubs, three spades, two diamonds and 500 points.

The bidding started the same way at the other table but the Italian West did not double. He would have been incurring far greater risk than Murray because in our systems North could have a very good hand. In the particular Italian system used here the diamond bid and no-trump response were both rather limited bids.

Our net gain on this board was 300 points, or seven International Match Points. Although Murray did not know it since they were in the middle of a season, it left the match an exact tie.

Q-CHORD Sense
Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 2 ♠ 1 ♠ 3 ♠
Pass 3 N.T. Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♠ KQ108 ♠ A9754 ♠ K85
Who do you do?

A—Pass. Your partner may not even have a play for this contract or it may be a clock. At least you are trying for the same.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two diamonds after your double your partner bid two hearts. What do you do now?

Tribal Chairman Defends Names

Dear Ann Landers: I am chairman of the Indian Tribal Council. My people and I read your column daily and we like it very much. I am writing in response to the letter from "Just Asking" who thought parents must be crazy to give their children odd names, such as July Bonus and Tin Cans. The name the reader felt was the craziest of all was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Around. They christened the boy, Stick.

It so happens that our son is also named Stick. His full name is William Walking Stick. In the Indian language this name has great significance. It means Hereditary Chief.

If "Just Asking" will come out here, I will be happy to introduce him to Horse Face, Calf-Looking, Dogman and Sky-Eyes, to name a few.

The American Indians have many interesting customs. I hope the appalled gentleman will read up on our history and then perhaps he will not call us crazy.

—CHIEF WAH-NEE-OTA
Dear Chief: Thank you for enlightening all of us. And please give my best regards to your son, Stick.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to direct my letter to the young man who wrote to tell you about his first and last experience with LSD. He may have saved my life. He may also have saved hundreds, perhaps thousands of other lives around the country. In my book he's a hero.

I am an 18-year-old who had been toying with the idea of taking LSD as an experiment. I had heard many conflicting reports from kids who had tried it. Some reported groovy trips. Others said it was pure Hell and warned me not to fool around with it because it's impossible to predict in advance what the effects might be.

The letter you published gave me a very good picture of what LSD can do. It can scramble your brains and wreck your nervous system. It can take you out of this world and leave you there. The description of that kid's struggle to get back to reality was enough to kill my curiosity. I consider myself lucky to have seen his letter because I realize now that my curiosity could have killed me.

I know you can't tell me the name of the guy who wrote it but, please, Ann, print my letter and tell him he did a wonderful thing for all the youth of America. God bless him. — SPARED

Dear Spared: Here's your letter and I hope he sees it. I have received hundreds of letters from teen-agers who expressed the same sentiment. You said it best.

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter-in-law is a sweet person, and, my son is a crazy about her, but every time I come from their house I have indigestion. She is such a dreadful housekeeper my heart aches for that boy.

It must be terrible for a young man who was brought up in a home that was orderly, and well organized to have to live in all that dirt. I'd never say anything to her, of course, but perhaps if you print this letter my daughter-in-law will see it and take the hint. — Mrs. ANONYMOUS

Dear Mrs. Clean: I'm not an advocate of sloppy housekeeping, but, believe me, this is way down on the list of what makes husbands miserable. If your son's crazy about her, I'll bet he doesn't even see the dirt.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents, if you can't get them to let you have your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents." How to Get More Freedom. Send 50c in coin with your request, and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Pay For Waiting Plan Up To Vote In Hauler Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A mediation team in the steel haulers' strike has come up with a new proposal on the disputed issue of paying the truckers for waiting at steel mills. The strikers and trucking firms face a vote on it this week.

A steel industry publication says the strike, in its second month, is having serious economic effects on steelmakers. The time truckers wait for loading and unloading—at present without pay—has become the key issue in the strike. The new proposals would give the truckers $13.70 an hour after a four-hour wait. The proposal, arrived at in weekend sessions by a seven state mediation panel, will be submitted to the National Steel Carriers Association, a breakaway group of independent trucking firms, the Teamsters Union and the strikers.

The two trucking groups rejected the original agreement giving the truckers $10 an hour after two hours. Truckers in most areas approved the plan.

Steel Magazine reported that the strike has forced curtailments at steel finishing mills and caused layoffs or short-term employment for 15,000 to 20,000 workers.

The weekly journal said a Pittsburgh area mill estimated it lost orders for 20,000 tons because it couldn't make deliveries. Another major producer set its loss at 40,000 to 60,000 tons. Mill deliveries for the industry during September were off 10 per cent from August.

Highways in the strike-torn states were reported relatively calm over the weekend in contrast to the violence earlier when scores of truck drivers were shot at, stoned and beaten.

Traffic Fatal For 3 In U.P.

By The Associated Press
Fifteen persons lost their lives on Michigan highways this weekend in the Associated Press count beginning 8 p.m. Friday and ending midnight Sunday.

Half of the victims died in collisions with other vehicles. Another was killed in a three-car collision.

Five of the victims lost control of their autos and ran off the road.

One man was struck and killed by a hit-and-run driver while changing a tire on the roadside.

The victims included: Gordon W. Mauno, 33, of Laurium, whose car rolled over on an Oceola Township road in Houghton County Sunday.

Theresa White, 20, of Hancock, who was injured fatally Sunday in a three-car collision on U.S. 41 about five miles south of Calumet.

John Michael Duffy, 25, of Kincheloe Air Force Base, whose car rammed through the end of a dead-end street in Benit St. Marie Saturday.

School Dicker With Teachers Needs Specialists

Collective bargaining may change the traditional role of the school superintendent as the community's educational leader, a Michigan Education Association official said in Milwaukee.

Karl L. Erickson, formerly of Escanaba, assistant executive secretary in the office of professional negotiations, Michigan Education Association, spoke at a collective negotiations institute at the Milwaukee Vocational School.

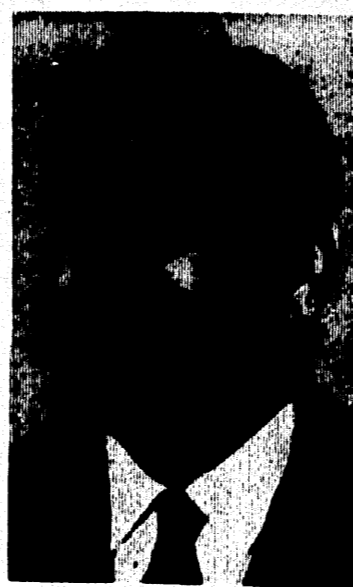

Experience in Michigan has shown, Erickson said, that superintendents generally have not been good at bargaining—they are too defensive and too personally involved with the school system.

A person with specialized training is needed to represent the school board at the bargaining table, Erickson said. This may result, he said, in a division of the superintendent's duties, with one person taking over as administrator and others assuming the responsibility for academic work.

"They seem to be evolving into hospital administrator type roles," Erickson said.

U.S. Foreign Aid Is Seminar Subject

About 40 Delta County community and organization leaders and faculty members will participate this week in a seminar on United States Aid to Developing Nations.

The seminar is sponsored by Bay de Noc Community College and Michigan State University's continuing Education Service. It will be held at the Bay de Noc Student Center.

President Richard Rinehart said the Community College is helping arrange for a series of four seminars to provide community leaders, high school faculty and club officials a better understanding of the goals and effectiveness of foreign aid programs and to give them an opportunity to evaluate and suggest needed adjustments.

Key speakers at the four seminars, Oct. 19, 26, and Nov. 2 and 9 will be Dr. Melvin Buschman, MSU's University Extension director of East Lansing, who has just returned from Nigeria; Dr. Walter Holmlund, Northern Michigan University's director of international relations, who served with the U.S. agency for International Development in Turkey; Dr. Irving Wyeth, Coordinator of MSU's Nigeria Program and formerly AID advisor in Taiwan, China.

The concluding seminar, Nov. 9, will feature Stapleton Roy, Department of Soviet Communist Affairs and Howard Edwards, former deputy director of AID, Vietnam, both of the U.S. State Department.

The seminar participants will have an opportunity to examine the overall problem of underdeveloped countries around the world with the assistance of experienced AID personnel. Participants will make a careful scrutiny of the economic, political and social concerns and of the possible uses, effects and values of American economic aid.

Nigeria will be used as a case study of the problem, processes and outlook for development. This new African nation was selected to serve as an example because of the extent to which her situation contains many of the problems characteristic of tropical Africa.

The Planning Committee, which assisted Bay de Noc in the preparation of the four part seminar included: Howard Ackler, Dr. Donald Alimenti, Luther Barrett, Rev. L. Gauthier, Dr. William Hemes Walter Lawke, Mrs. Norman Lindquist, Ray McDonough, Mrs. William Taylor and faculty members of the college.

Dr. Rinehart announced that registration for the seminar will be held Thursday evening at 7, at Bay de Noc College student center. A registration fee of $15 will be collected at that time to help defray the travel expenses of program consultants.

Third In Apples

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's apple industry has increased the most of the five leading apple-producing states in recent years, report Michigan State University agricultural economists. The state now ranks third among top apple-producing states and produces and packs 10 per cent of the total annual U.S. fresh apple crop, they said.

Bishops Wasting Time: Kavanaugh

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — The Rev. James Kavanaugh, in renouncing priesthood in the Roman Catholic church, said Sunday the church is dead and "I will remain a priest in my own way."

"I want the religious freedom that Vatican II promised me," the former Lansing, Mich., priest told about 400 persons at the University of Notre Dame. His talk was sponsored by the university's academic commission of the student union.

The author of the best selling book, "A Modern Priest Looks at His Outdated Church," also criticized celibacy and said he will marry.

Father Kavanaugh has been on leave from the Lansing diocese and has been working as a marriage counselor at the human resources institute in La Jolla, Calif.

The institutional church is dead," he said. "The bishops at the synod in Rome are wasting their time. We, the Catholics of America, are getting our theology second hand from European theologians who don't have answers either."

He asked the crowd, "Why don't you do something? Then I can love your church. Your institution can go to Hell. I want no part of it. I don't find it in the gospels."

"I want the freedom to be myself, the freedom to find God without arrogant priests telling me I can't," he said. "I will respect the general principles of Christianity and the awareness of Christ they gave me. I will remain a priest in my own way even as I leave the institution."

Castro Accepts Guevara's Death

HAVANA (AP) — The revolutionary movement in Latin America will go on despite the "hard blow" of guerrilla leader Ernesto Che Guevara's death in Bolivia, Prime Minister Fidel Castro says.

In a broadcast speech Sunday night, Castro said that "imperialism has a fear of Che after death." He said Guevara has been eliminated physically but his example "can never be eliminated by anything or anyone."

Castro spoke softly in a low voice, his characteristic flamboyance muted by sadness, as he said he accepted as "bitterly true" reports that Guevara had been killed in a battle with troops in Bolivia's jungles.

The prime minister said he could not doubt the authenticity of photographs of the dead man and a diary said to belong to Guevara, who fought with Castro against Cuban President Fulgencio Batista and became Castro's right-hand man in government. Guevara had dropped from sight in Cuba in 1965.

It was the first official Cuban comment on the reports of Guevara's death.

Castro, dressed in an olive green major's uniform, said he was declaring three days of mourning and that a memorial tribute to Guevara will be held Wednesday night in Havana. He said the Cuban flag would be flown at half-staff for 30 days and announced that Oct. 8, the day Bolivian authorities claimed Guevara's death, would be henceforth a holiday.

Castro said he accepted Bolivia's report of Guevara's death in part because its government is too "stupid" to invent it. But he said there were "strange and contradictory things" surrounding the story and suggested that Che had been betrayed by a deserter.

He said he believed the Bolivians killed Guevara after taking him captive and not, as reported, during a five or six-hour battle. He said a battle that long is out of line with guerrilla strategy.

Castro ridiculed a Bolivian army report contradicted in Bolivia by some military officials, that Guevara gasped before his death, "I am Che. I have failed."

The Cuban leader said Che would never have said anything to aid the enemy.

Mrs. Guevara and her four children have been reported out of Havana for the last few days.

Judge Davidson opened the October term of court at 10 a.m. today in the Delta County building.

Scheduled for hearing are the following suits, Oct. 18 —

John Ruelau vs. Robert and Margo Froelich, auto negligence; Oct. 25 — Mary C. Osterberg, adm., et al vs. Gordon A. Brunette, et al, general;

Oct. 30 — Leonard Nelson, et al vs. Bruce and Gladys Walker, auto negligence; Nov. 1 — Peter Botrow vs. John J. Bartella, auto negligence; and

Nov. 3 — LaBonte and Adams, Inc., vs. Hugh Harris, general.

Sentence on John J. Kobasic, 17, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, who pleaded guilty to a charge of theft from an auto when arraigned before Davidson earlier in Marquette, was scheduled to be imposed this afternoon.

In the only other criminal action today, Davidson appointed Atty. John Beauchamp of Escanaba as counsel for Harold J. Lynda, Capt. C. Robb To Marry At Sunset

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles Robb have picked romantic sunset time for their Dec. 9 White House wedding and have ruled out television coverage of the ceremony.

The Rev. Canon Gerald McAllister, a personable young Texas Episcopal clergyman, will perform the marriage at the White House also, announced Sunday.

Guest list for the East Room upstairs of the President's elder daughter will be held to about 600 persons. That's 200 less than Lynda's sister, Luci, invited to her Aug. 6, 1966 cathedral wedding and White House reception. This will be the first time in 53 years that a presidential daughter has been married in the White House. The Johnsons announced that "lack of space" will limit coverage by news media.

No TV Coverage

Only a pool of reporters will be permitted to cover certain portions of the event. There will be no television coverage of the wedding ceremony itself, a White House spokesman said.

Lynda and her young Marine fiance have set their Saturday wedding for 4 p.m., about a half hour before sunset.

Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to Mrs. Johnson, said the time of the wedding would be "an hour that suits the couple, and it also depends on the honeymoon destination."

In choosing the minister, Lynda didn't look far from home.

She picked the late Texas clergyman who only two weeks ago offered prayers for Lynda and Charles at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Fredericksburg, Texas, 45 miles from the LBJ Ranch.

He was so surprised when Mrs. Johnson called Saturday to ask him to perform the ceremony, he didn't even discuss the details.

Two weeks ago when news was asked if he would preside, he replied, "No, that's a job for a priest."

The Rev. Mrs. McAllister, son of W. W. McAllister, mayor of San Antonio, has known the President's family about four years, ever since he presided at the laying of a cornerstone at the St. Barnabas Church.

Friend Of The Family

Since about a year ago, when he became supply priest at the church, which has a regular minister, the Rev. Mr. McAllister has seen the first family frequently. The President often goes to St. Barnabas when he is spending weekends at his ranch.

The minister is anxious about the required ministerial counseling session required of all couples marrying in the Episcopal church. Such sessions are usually conducted by the minister who will preside over the ceremony, but the Rev. Mr. McAllister said Sunday, "If it's not possible for me to handle it then perhaps someone in Washington could."

The Rev. Mr. McAllister attended Lynda's alma mater, the University of Texas, and was graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary in 1951.

It is a non-profit, self-governing, member-supported organization for charitable, educational, scientific and literary purposes.

Money for the club's charitable projects is raised through member contributions, an annual card party and other fund-raising projects. Any woman who is actively engaged in business or the professions, either on a full-time or on a part-time basis, is eligible for membership.

Meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month and an invitation is extended to interested business and professional women to become active members of the club. Additional information can be obtained from Mrs. Pearl Witte, the membership chairman or from any member of the club.

HOME FURNITURE NEWS

"THE BEAUTY OF A CHAIR"

A chair is something to sit on. A chair also can be a thing of great beauty. For example a camp stool can serve as something upon which to sit.

But what modern woman would be content to have a camp stool installed in a prominent corner of her living room in the place of a finely made chair exuding beauty and charm. What we are leading up to is this: Fine furniture, modern furniture, goes beyond the point of mere utility. A home is made lovely by its furniture. And the selection of this furniture begins with its purchase at the wholesale level.

That is why we go to the wholesale market to personally select the merchandise we offer our patrons.

We carefully inspect the newest furniture, hand-crafted by the nation's leading makers. We feel the finish, check the fabrics, analyze the construction, not from the slick pages of a catalog, but at first hand.

This entails time, trouble and expense, but it's the only way to assure our patrons of a selection that's complete, new and in the latest trend.

We'd like you to see this furniture, knowing as we do, of the pride that the homemakers take in beautiful surroundings for their families.

Govt. Planning Tax Dodge Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal crackdown is taking shape against private foundations set up as tax-dodging schemes.

The Internal Revenue Service revealed that it began eight months ago an investigation into what it termed widely promoted plans to avoid taxes through private foundations or family trusts. A congressional inquiry into what Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., has called the mass production of tax-dodging foundations is scheduled to begin Oct. 30.

The Johnson administration's tax revision package, scheduled to be sent to Congress later this year, is also expected to call for a ban on the diversion of foundation assets to private advantage.

The first witnesses in the congressional inquiry, by Patman's House small business subcommittee are expected to be trustees and members of a group called "Americans Building Constitutionally," headquartered in Barrington, Ill.

Patman said the group allegedly instructs its members on how to avoid taxes by setting up personal tax-exempt foundations.

CALUMET & HECLA'S R. W. Johnson, vice president, marketing and planning, examines flags used in desk sets which the company presented to international associates in Canada, Great Britain, Sweden, Denmark, West Germany, Italy and Japan. Each desk set included a U. S. flag and the flag of the recipient country and was inscribed: "Presented in Friendship by Calumet & Hecla."

The occasion coincided with a civic promotion honoring the flags of many nations in Evanston, Ill., home of Calumet & Hecla's corporate headquarters. The company also flew the national ensign of its overseas business clients during the civic event.

The Bridegroom Finally Escapes

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Magistrate Jeanette Johnson was about to perform the marriage ceremony when the would-be groom took a deep breath and rushed from her courthouse office.

But not for long. His would-be bride ran after him, and the couple returned in a few minutes. The young girl was beaming and the boy was red-faced and nervous.

Magistrate Johnson started the ceremony again and all was fine until she reached the words "and forsaking all others and keep ye only unto her so long as ye both shall live."

Suddenly, the boy shouted: "I won't!"

He bolted out of the office and this time the bride didn't chase him.

Chrysler Recalls 7,189 Imperials

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. said Friday it was recalling 7,189 of its 1967 model Imperial cars to install equipment to protect against accumulation of slush on the auto pilot linkage.

The linkage allows a driver to set a certain speed at which the car will continue running, even when the driver does not touch the accelerator, until the driver brakes the vehicle.

Imperial dealers will install the slush shield package used on the 1968 Imperials to correct the problem in the 1967 models being recalled, Chrysler said.

The tomato was once called the "love apple" and was thought to be poisonous.

Eskymos Clip Marines For Seventh Victory

Stage Comeback After Trailing, 7 - 0, Early In Rugged Grid Clash

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

QUESTION: When do you give something away and then take it back?

ANSWER: When you are the Escanaba football team that spots Marinette a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and stages a tremendous comeback to win, 20-7.

The Eskymos faced their toughest competition in a back-breaking schedule Saturday night under the lights at Marinette. The strain of six straight previous triumphs over formidable competition was evident as the Esky grid machine was jerky and sputtery in the early going.

Marinette took advantage of two fumbles to dominate the action completely in the first quarter. It ended with the Eskys trailing by a 7-0 margin and battling to get out of their own territory.

Long Fumble Help
John Moberg kept the Eskymos alive with booming punts that pinned Marinette receivers in the shadow of the goal posts.

Late in the second quarter the Eskymos shook off the jitters and began to get the range on offense and defense. By the fourth frame the Eskymos were in control and they punched out two final touchdowns for their impressive margin of victory.

However, it wasn't as easy as the score might indicate. A great clutch performance by tough little halfback Jerry Brazeau was one of the highlights of the night. Brazeau reeled off 92 yards in 23 trips through a big strong and mobile Marinette line.

Escanaba's battle-tested defense held its hands full with Rick Schoener, a Marinette line backer who zipped for 85 yards in 24 carries.

Defense Tough Again
Although allowing only their third touchdown of the campaign, the Esky defense played a superb game. They had to, with the Marines employing a slam-bang running game spiced with a dangerous aerial attack from quarterback Bob Bartkowiak.

Two of the biggest defensive plays of the night were turned in by Dave Miller and Bob Schaut. Miller recovered a Bartkowiak fumble on the Marinette 27 to set up Escanaba's second touchdown and Schaut made a sensational stop of Bartkowiak to give the Eskymos possession on downs at midfield with five and a half minutes to go in the contest.

In the statistics department the game was remarkably even. The Eskymos gained 144 yards rushing and completed three of 11 passes for 50 yards. Marinette picked up 140 rushing and 40 passing hitting on three of 13.

Marines Start Fast
Moberg averaged 36.8 yards on five kicks. Schoener came out with 35.5 on four. Escanaba had 11 first down, Marinette 10.

The game opened with Marinette pouncing out a first down and then punting from the 37 after a jarring tackle by Butch LaBay. Esky defensive star, The Marines got the ball right back when Bruce Magnuson recovered a Brazeau fumble on the Escanaba 28 and they drove it home in five plays with Schoener going the final two yards. Bartkowiak kicked the point to make it 7-0.

Marinette lanced to the Esky 30 midway in the period and late in the quarter Miketinae

Vikings Sting Packers, 10 - 7

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers have been stung by Earl Morrill and the Minnesota Vikings in a National Football League game that provided something different for both sides.

The Packers, frustrated by Mackbee, who seemed to be all over the field all day as the Vikings held the Packers' running attack to a mere 42 yards. The line gave a good rush on Bratkowski.

Mackbee's first interception in the opening period gave the Vikings the ball on the Green Bay 26 but Bob Jeter intercepted a Joe Kapp pass two plays later to spoil Minnesota's bid.

The Vikings victory was also unusual. It was Minnesota's first in an official game since last Dec. 11 when Detroit fell 28-16. The Vikings dropped their first four starts this season, their first under new head Coach Bud Grant.

The Packers, who brought a 3-0-1 record into the rain-soaked game, lost when Fred Cox kicked a 12-yard field goal with eight seconds to play.

A Cox field goal had also been the difference the last time the Packers' lost. It was to the same Vikings, 20-17 last Nov. 6. The Packers then went undefeated in 17 straight games, including the NFL championship game, the Super Bowl, six pre-season games this summer, and four league games prior to Sunday.

Beating Green Bay, said Cox, "is getting to be a habit."

But Mackbee, who was awarded the game ball, was a major factor in the downfall of the awesome Packers.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound defensive back intercepted only two passes all last season. Yet, he pilfered two of Zeke Bratkowski's throws and the Vikings converted the second steal into the winning field goal.

Eagles Notch 28-6 Verdict

ENGADINE — Daryl Miller, Engadine's 220 pound fullback, blasted for 140 yards in 12 carries and scored two touchdowns to lead the Eagles to a 28-6 Eastern Conference triumph over Pickford.

Quarterback Mike Schutt backed Miller's performance by completing 12 of 22 passes for 199 yards and two TD's.

The Eagles drove 80 yards in nine plays in the first quarter with Miller belting over from the four and running the point to make it 7-0. Schutt opened up with strikes to Doug Webb and Miller and Pat Bigger ripped over an 18 yard run in a second period drive, capped by Miller's 13 yard jaunt. He ran the point to make it 14-0.

Pickford tallied on a 35 yard toss from Bill O'Connor to Erick Rike midway in the fourth quarter to narrow the margin to 14-6.

Engadine clinched it with Schutt's aerials. He hooked up with Daryl Houghton on a 12 yarder and with Art Hancock for 35 yards to move the Eagles out of reach in the late stages of the contest.

Duncan's Dreams A Bit Wild; Voices Are Okay

By The Associated Press
The voices Speedy Duncan hears give him good information, but his dreams tend to get a little out of hand.

"I had a dream Saturday night that I would intercept four passes and help San Diego win," the Charger defensive back said after an important 45-31 victory over Kansas City Sunday.

In real life, Duncan intercepted just one of Len Dawson's throws, but it was a good one. Duncan took it 100 yards for a touchdown, the longest return of a pass interception in league history.

Earlier in the afternoon's festivities, Duncan had picked up a fumble by Mike Garrett and

Braves Trip Miners In Stunning Upset On Dollhopf's Boot

By RAY CRANDALL

GLADSTONE — In the greatest ambush since Gen. Custer got his at the Little Big Horn, the Gladstone Braves destroyed Negamnee, 17-14 in a Great Lakes Conference football shocker here Saturday.

Coach Don Protenhauer's Braves led the previously unbeaten, untied and unchallenged Miners on a treacherous trail that ended in disaster when kicking specialist Ralph Dollhopf booted a field goal from the 16 yard line with seven seconds remaining in the battle.

Negamnee entered the game with one of the finest records in the Upper Peninsula. This season the Miners had creamed six straight opponents, hitting 60 points in two different games and were the highest scoring team in the Peninsula. They had already clinched at least a share of the Great Lakes championship and were ranked the No. 2 team in this week's Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association poll.

Great Team Effort
The Braves turned Negamnee's dreams of an undefeated season into a nightmare and opened the gate for the Manistiquie Emeralds to tie for the G.L.C. crown. Both Negamnee and Manistiquie are now 5-1 in the league with one game remaining.

It took a fabulous team effort for the underdog Braves to match the talented Miners through four quarters of furious football. Gladstone had heroes all over the place.

Take Dan Marenager who intercepted three of Eric Prusi's Negamnee aerials. Or Dean Culliton who swiped one pass and recovered an enemy fumble. Or Jim Dehlin who hopped on another fumble or Steve Nelson who hauled in a Negamnee pass.

How about the defensive giants who gave the classy Negamnee running game a lesson in toughness. Craig Johnson, Bill Johnson, Bob Carlson, Mike Lagina, Jim Dehlin, Culliton, Steve Maniaci, Steve Nelson and Mike Maniaci turned in brilliant performances.

Jarvis Comes Through
Don't forget quarterback Pete Jarvis who threw a three yard touchdown pass to Steve Maniaci on the final play of the first half and then completed four straight tosses in the dying moments of the game to put the Braves into position for Dollhopf's winning boot.

Then there was Dan Gobert who lugged the leather 14 times into the powerful Negamnee line and crossed up the defense with an 18 yard touchdown toss to Steve Nelson in the third frame. His booming punts were also a major factor in the game.

And finally there was the tremendous running exhibition turned in by halfback Dan LaCasse who slammed into tacklers with reckless abandon, gaining 25 yards in 13 punishing carries.

Statistics Story
If the game were won in statistics, Negamnee would still be unbeaten. The Miners piled up 209 yards on the ground and completed 8 of 17 passes for 132 more. Joe Ghiardi lived up to advance notices with a stand-out performance, gaining 147 yards in 25 trips, including one jaunt of 72 yards. Prusi added 32 yards, Gerald Laurila 21 and Pete Oega 8.

Gladstone backs accounted for 32 yards on the ground and Jarvis and Gobert teamed up to complete 13 of 29 passes for 129. The Miners opened scoring midway in the second period.

After a pass interception had halted Gladstone on the Negamnee 10. They drove 90 yards in six plays with Ghiardi being hauled down from behind by Steve Nelson on his 72-yard sprint. Ghiardi banged over from the three and Prusi passed to Laurila for a 7-0 lead.

The teams traded punts through the second quarter until Gladstone found the combination for a 65 yard march in 16 plays in the closing minutes of the half. The Braves hustled to the Negamnee three yard line where Jarvis pitched to tall Steve Maniaci in the right corner of the end zone on the last play of the half. Dollhopf tied it 7-7 with his PAT.

Marenager Sets It Up
Both teams scored in the third period with Negamnee going ahead on a 15 yard pass from Prusi to end Bill Bath.

Ghiardi hit Bath with a pass for the extra point and it was 14-7.

Gladstone slammed right back with Culliton returning the ensuing kick 43 yards to the Negamnee 42. Six plays later Gobert fired to Steve Nelson from the 18 yard line. Dollhopf booted the conversion and it was tied, 14-14.

The final three and a half minutes of the game were hectic as both teams tried desperately to break the tie. In that stretch the Braves intercepted two passes, lost the ball once on downs, recovered a fumble and got the winning field goal. Marenager set it up by intercepting a Prusi pass and rambling 48 yards to the Negamnee 26 with 1:15 remaining.

The Braves will put their 5-2 record on the line in their season finale at Soo Friday night.

The Powers-Spalding Tigers wrapped up their first perfect football season in 15 years Saturday by trouncing Bark River-Harris, 59-6, for sole possession of the Wolverine Conference championship.

Smith fired four touchdowns passes and scrambled for two on the ground. He connected on 6 of 13 tosses in the game, accounting for 191 yards.

Scott Riedy, who galloped 66 yards in five trips, scored three times. Dave Pietuch, Kim Riedy and Dick Smith also tallied for Coach Mike Foreberg. Dick Smith was the top tackler for the Tigers with nine solo and four assists and Mark Veevor hauled down seven enemy runners.

Bark River's touchdowns came on a 25 yard pass play from Russ Priot to Ken Veevor in the third period.

Here are the Tiger scoring plays:
Dick Smith recovered a fumble and ran 20 yards.

Tom Smith passed to Scott Riedy for 28 yards.
Tom Smith passed to David Pietuch for 6 yards.
Tom Smith ran 7 yards.
Scott Riedy ran 40 yards with interception.
Scott Riedy recovered fumble and ran 1 yard.
Jim Milecki kicked four extra points and Tom Smith ran one.

In the other conference finale Saturday the Rock Little Giants failed to win but got on the scoreboard for the first time this season in a 53-13 loss to Pembine.

Rock made a game of it in the first half, trailing only 20-13 at intermission, but ran out of gas in the final two frames.

Gary Brunngraver scored both the Rock touchdowns on plunges of one and three yards. Tom Lippens caught 13 passes from Brunngraver for over 100 yards.

Bears Tip Lions In Driving Rain

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Coach George Halas is seldom stumped by a question concerning pro football or his Chicago Bears but this one got him to admit "I really don't know."

Halas was asked, following a rain-soaked 14-3 triumph over the Detroit Lions Sunday, if and when a Bear team had thrown less than four passes in one game.

"I really don't know," said Halas. "I don't think we've ever thrown less. Let me see, back in 1938 we beat Green Bay 2-0 in another rain storm but I think we threw six passes in that game."

Sunday, the Bears completed three of four passes for a net of 37 yards.

It was a 31-yard toss to Johnny Morris which set up a second-quarter touchdown.

The pass put the Bears on the Lions' 32, at which point quarterback Jack Concannon and halfback Gale Sayers took turns carrying into the Bears capped an 83-yard jaunt in 13 plays with Sayers going over from the three-yard line in a driving rain.

"You must admit that under the conditions it would have been foolish for us to pass," said Halas. "After all, three-out-of-four is a 750 percentage and that isn't too bad."

The Bear defense, taking advantage of muddy conditions, kept the Lions in check until the fourth quarter when Milt Plum clicked on three passes which carried the Lions to the Bear seven.

But the Bears stopped Tom Nowatzke on a line plunge and two passes went astray before Detroit settled for a 15-yard field goal by Wayne Walker.

Minutes later Bennie McRae intercepted a pass and ran 29 yards for the clinching touchdown. Sayers again was the big man for the Bears as he carried 22 times for 142 yards.

Detroit suffered a serious blow midway in the second quarter when halfback Mel Farr suffered a leg injury which later was diagnosed as a thigh bruise. Farr had carried eight times for 31 yards but still finished the game as Detroit's leading rusher.

Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt said "losing Farr hurt, but that's not what beat us. We didn't play good football. As far as Sayers is concerned, it's only a matter of time before he busts any game open."

Spartans Go Hollywood, Raye Has Fun In Victory

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan State's Spartans have gone Hollywood in pursuit of an unprecedented third straight Big Ten football title, and quarterback Jimmy Raye learned to have fun in the process.

Raye, who watched films of his year's 20-7 victory over Michigan to bolster his spirit, scored two touchdowns and passed for two more as the Spartans walked Michigan 24-0 Saturday.

The defeat, Michigan's third straight, was the worst ever handed a Wolverine squad by MSU.

Raye, who said he was "a little nervous" before the game, did not seem to be having much fun out there.

The idea of showing movies of last year's game came from MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty and his staff.

"They showed me some of the game films and after each play, a couple of the coaches would say to me, 'Wasn't that play fun?'" said Raye. "I guess I caught onto the idea and I found myself finally enjoying things out there."

Raye scored the first two MSU touchdowns on a pair of quarterback sneaks, and then sparked two more scores with less than two minutes to play in the half.

He fired a 65-yard pass to Al Brenner for the third TD and following an interception passed eight yards to Franklin Foreman for the fourth score.

The final Spartan touchdown came on an eight-yard run by Dick Berinski in the fourth quarter, capping a 38-yard drive.

We're a better football team than the score indicates," said Michigan Coach Bump Elliott. "But anytime you give up two quick ones like that it takes the steam out of a team."

But the MSU defense had a hand in the victory, never letting the Wolverines beyond the Spartan 44 in the first half and cutting off second-half drives with fumble recoveries and interceptions.

Raye hit on six of 13 passes for 130 yards and two touchdowns and ran for 77 yards in 10 carries, mostly on option plays around end or inside the tackles.

Daugherty said he had to adjust his offenses in the second period when Michigan came up with what he described "as almost a nine-man line to counter Raye's sweeps. We sent him inside and that paid off pretty well," he said.

The Spartans also got good running from fullbacks Bob Apsa, with 58 yards in eight carries, and Regis Cavanaugh, who had 44 yards in six tries.

"I was especially pleased with the way Apsa and Cavanaugh ran out there," said Daugherty. "Our sophomores made some mistakes but they played great ball just the same."

Daugherty said his defense was keyed on Michigan's great running back, Ron Johnson, who gained 107 yards in 24 carries, but never got away for a long run.

The victory was Michigan State's 16th straight regular Big Ten season victory, one short of the current period of 17 won held by Ohio State. The Spartans will have a chance to tie the mark against Minnesota at Minneapolis next Saturday.

But the Spartans have a long way to go before they can be assured of another Big Ten crown. Still in the way are unbeaten Indiana, powerful Purdue and a good Northwestern team.

Michigan, now 1-3 overall and 0-1 in the conference, plays host to Indiana Saturday.

Too Bad For Vikes They Play Packers Just Twice A Season

By The Associated Press
No wonder the winning habit hasn't come easy for the Minnesota Vikings. They only play Green Bay a couple of times each year.

The Vikings pulled the biggest upset of the young National Football League season Sunday, spilling Green Bay, world champs 10-7, on a 12-yard field goal by Fred Cox with eight seconds to play.

It was Minnesota's first victory of the season, and the first setback for the Packers since they bowed to the Vikings 20-17 last November.

Beating Green Bay is getting to be a habit, quipped Cox, whose second field goal in the 1966 game at Green Bay provided Minnesota's margin of victory.

After losing that one, however, the Packers reeled off five straight victories, beat Dallas for the NFL title, whipped Kansas City in the Super Bowl and got off to a 3-0 start this year.

The Vikings, meanwhile, dropped five of their last six games in 1966 for a 4-9 finish and were 0-4 this season going into Sunday's game at rain-drenched Milwaukee.

"You might make more significance out of it than we will," said a restrained Bud Grant, the Vikings' first-year coach. "We needed a win whether it was over Green Bay or the Little Sisters of the Poor."

While the Vikings were overlooking Green Bay with a 10-point spread in the final period of the Los Angeles Rams' game from 10 points down in the last six minutes to earn a 24-22 standoff at Baltimore and spoil the Colts' perfect NFL record.

It was that kind of a day throughout the league.

At Atlanta, Wade Grayham's 31-yard field goal with two seconds remaining gave the Atlanta Falcons a 20-20 deadlock with Washington.

At Pittsburgh, Fran Tarkenton's 69-yard TD bomb to Joe Morrison on a triple reverse shot the New York Giants past the Steelers 27-24 with 1:50 to go.

At Philadelphia, Ken Willard's fourth-quarter scoring burst carried the San Francisco 49ers to a 28-27 nod over the Eagles.

The Dallas Cowboys edged New Orleans 14-10, the Cleveland Browns shaded St. Louis 20-16 and the Chicago Bears subdued Detroit 14-3 in other NFL games.

In the American Football League, San Diego outscored Kansas City 45-31, New York and Houston battled to a 28-28 tie, Oakland trimmed Buffalo 24-20 and Boston slugged Miami 41-10.

Green Bay's Zeke Bratkowski, unbeaten in eight previous games as a relief pitcher for Bart Starr, had two fourth-quarter passes picked off by the Vikings, who turned each theft into a score.

Ed Sharrockman made the first steal and took it back 37 yards to set up Bill Brown's one-yard TD plunge that tied the game 7-7. With 2:11 left, Earsell Mackbee intercepted a Bratkowski pass on the Packers' 45. Six plays later, Cox booted the winning three-pointer.

Bruce Gossett's 47-yard field goal and Roman Gabriel's third scoring pass—a 16-yarder to Bernie Casey with 2:57 to play—pulled Los Angeles even at Baltimore. The Colts had won their first four games and appeared to have No. 5 wrapped up on Johnny Unitas' 31-yard TD pitch to Willie Richardson early in the fourth quarter.

Unitas, who signed a three-year contract for a reported $375,000 before the game, also hit Alex Hawkins with a 14-yard TD pass. Lou Michaels kicked a 45-yard field goal for the Colts, but missed a 44-yard bid with 1:12 minutes remaining.

The Redskins, beaten by Dallas in the final minute a week ago, erased a 17-14 Atlanta lead on a 24-yard Sonny Jurgenson-Bobby Mitchell TD pass with 42 seconds to go. But Tommy Norbit Atlanta's brilliant linebacker blocked the extra point kick by Brig Owens and Magnum's tying three-pointer, capped by a last-ditch drive by the Falcons.

Trailing 24-20 and the two-minute warning, the Giants caught the Steelers napping when Tarkenton handed off to Ernie Koy, who slipped the ball to Homer Jones on an apparent end-around play. Jones bowever, flipped it back to the quarterback, who found Morrison all alone on the Pittsburgh 30.

Willard's winning four-yard plunge avenged San Francisco's one-point loss to the Eagles last year. Two touchdowns by fullback Gary Lewis helped stake the 49ers to a 21-10 halftime lead, but the Eagles rallied to take the lead behind Norm Snead, who fired three TD passes.

The Cowboys held off winless New Orleans in the rain at Dallas, stopping a fourth-quarter Saints' march on the five-yard line and thwarting another drive when Dave Edwards recovered a fumble on the seven with one minute to play.

Lou Groza's first two field goals of the season lifted the Browns past the fumbling Cardinals. Jim Bakken's third field goal cut the Browns' lead to 17-16 early in the final period before Groza kicked a 34-yarder with 58 seconds remaining.

Gale Sayers romped over a muddy field for 142 yards and one touchdown and Bennie McRae scored on a 25-yard interception fumble as the Bears edged the Lions at Chicago, the winners threw only four passes in the game, but completed three—including a 35-yard Jack Concanannon-Johnny Morris flip that set up Sayers' three-yard TD run.

Northwood Bumped Out Of Undeclared Ranks In State College List

By The Associated Press
A resounding defeat knocked Northwood Institute from the ranks of Michigan's unbeaten college football teams, but the five other unbeaten, untied teams remained undefeated today.

Northwood was bombed 55-0 by Eastern Kentucky, dropping to a 4-1 record for the year. Northern Michigan, with a 5-0 record, was idle Saturday.

Eastern Michigan, an active unbeaten Saturday, powered past John Carroll 34-0 without letting Carroll cross the EMU 35-yard line. Five different players got touchdowns for Eastern, which is 5-0.

Olivet, also 5-0, crushed Kalamazoo 34-0, with Al Nagy passing 6 yards for one touchdown, 10 yards for another, and three other players scored for the victors.

Wayne State, down 7-6 at the half, rebounded to beat Texas State 27-13 and remained undefeated after four games. Halfback George Crawford ran 42 yards for one touchdown and took an 11-yard pass from quarterback A.J. Vaughn for another.

Alma remained unbeaten and got its fifth triumph by getting two quick touchdowns and dumping Albion 14-0. Chris Clark, who gained 96 yards on 28 carries, scored one touchdown on a 6-yard run and Roger Frayer got the other with a 22-yard return of an intercepted pass.

Workhorse Craig Tefft gained 192 yards on 35 carries and scored twice, on runs of 58 and 6 yards, to lead once-beaten Central Michigan to a 30-6 victory over winless Hillsdale.

Keith Abel turned in a strong performance with 154 yards gained on 35 carries, powering Hope to a 19-7 victory over Adrian. He scored a touchdown on a 1-yard run and took a 4-yard pass for another.

In other games Saturday, Bemidji beat Michigan Tech 21-14.

Broncos Notch League Victory

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan's conference magic lingers on.

Bouncing back from a pair of nonconference losses, the Broncos Saturday "dumped" Kent State's Golden Flashes 16-7 for their third victory in the Mid-American Conference.

Western has lost no conference games as it defends its MAC co-championship.

A conference record crowd of 22,800 watched as Kent took a 7-0 lead, marching 80 yards in nine plays for a touchdown the first time it got the ball.

Quarterback Ron Swartz pitched a 47-yard pass to wingback Billy Blunt for the touchdown.

Then the Broncos retaliated, gobbling up a Kent fumble on the Golden Flashes' five, and tailback Jack Foster crashed over for the score. Dale Livingston's conversion tied it 7-7.

Livington booted a 30-yard field goal for the go-ahead points in the fourth period and quarterback Jim Boreland drilled a seven-yard pass to fullback Jim Majerle to ice the triumph.

Marshall gave the Rangers the lead at 13:50 of the first period with a power-play goal seven seconds after Detroit defenseman Bert Marshall was penalized.

Neilon walked through the Detroit defense unmolested to score at 2:30 of the second period against Wing goalie George Gardner.

Buddy Baker Big Winner

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—"I haven't cried since I was a boy, but I sure did then."

That was the way young Buddy Baker of Charlotte described his feelings Sunday after winning the $100,000 National 500-mile stock car race at the Charlotte Motor Speedway, his first Grand National victory.

The 26-year-old Baker, son of retired racing star Buck Baker, took the lead with 100 miles remaining, and never relinquished it—holding off charge after charge by some of the biggest names in stock car racing.

He averaged 130.186 miles per hour in a Dodge Charger and won $19,835.

Even Notre Dame, after a taste of O.J., is buying.

It came about last Saturday when Southern Cal's O.J. Simpson thrust himself onto the national scene by leading the Trojans to a decisive 24-7 victory over the Irish in college football's game of the day.

The loss dispelled any hopes of a second straight win for Notre Dame had of retaining its No. 1 ranking of 1966 assured by its Game of the Decade tie against Michigan State and a final 51-0 victory over USC.

On the other hand, the victory was sure to strengthen Southern Cal's present No. 1 ranking and further enhance its upcoming traditional battle against UCLA Nov. 18 should the Trojans, 5-0, and Bruins keep winning.

UCLA, No. 4, ran its record to 5-0 with a 37-14 whipping of California as Gary Beban passed for two scores and ran for another.

Second-ranked Purdue also had an easy time, swamping Ohio State 41-6 to remain unbeaten in four games and No. 6 Colorado, Alabama, No. 7, and North Carolina State, No. 9, also carried on.

But two other Top Ten clubs—Georgia and Nebraska—dropped from the undefeated Mississippi stunned the third-

Trojans Strengthen Hold On No.1 Spot

By The Associated Press
Southern California's publicity campaign to move this year's Game of the Decade from the Midwest to the West Coast has opened with one eye-popping orange juice commercial.

Even Notre Dame, after a taste of O.J., is buying.

It came about last Saturday when Southern Cal's O.J. Simpson thrust himself onto the national scene by leading the Trojans to a decisive 24-7 victory over the Irish in college football's game of the day.

The loss dispelled any hopes of a second straight win for Notre Dame had of retaining its No. 1 ranking of 1966 assured by its Game of the Decade tie against Michigan State and a final 51-0 victory over USC.

On the other hand, the victory was sure to strengthen Southern Cal's present No. 1 ranking and further enhance its upcoming traditional battle against UCLA Nov. 18 should the Trojans, 5-0, and Bruins keep winning.

UCLA, No. 4, ran its record to 5-0 with a 37-14 whipping of California as Gary Beban passed for two scores and ran for another.

Second-ranked Purdue also had an easy time, swamping Ohio State 41-6 to remain unbeaten in four games and No. 6 Colorado, Alabama, No. 7, and North Carolina State, No. 9, also carried on.

But two other Top Ten clubs—Georgia and Nebraska—dropped from the undefeated Mississippi stunned the third-ranked Bulldogs 29-20 and Kansas surprised the Cornhuskers, No. 8, 10-0.

Tenth-ranked Houston was idle.

Notre Dame, oddly a two-touchdown favorite, kept the top on Simpson the first half, but could only sit wide-eyed when the second half commercial started and U.J. began pouring through Irish fingers. The nation's rushing leader, held to 41 yards in 14 carries before intermission, scored three touchdowns and covered 125 yards in 25 carries in the final two periods.

"Simpson was everything we expected," said Irish Coach Ara Parseghian, who also praised linebacker Adrian Young, a Dublin-born Irishman who turned against the Irish with four pass interceptions.

"Young was fantastic," Parseghian said after the error-plagued game in which Notre Dame lost two fumbles and threw seven pass interceptions and USC lost one fumble and had three passes stolen.

USC Coach John McKay, glorying in the revenge of last year's humiliating loss to Notre Dame, said his club "had more speed, better running backs and just better football players in there—and that's why we won."

Purdue, which beat Notre Dame earlier, ran its record to 4-0 behind Mike Phipps, who hit nine straight passes for 142 yards and two TDs for a 35-0 halftime bulge.

Colorado, 4-0, controlled the ball most of the time against previously unbeaten Missouri, but needed three field goals by Dave Bartelt to help overcome an early 7-6 deficit and continue to a 23-6 triumph.

Two field goals by Steve Davis and Kenny Stabler's second TD pass to Dennis Homan snapped a 14-14 tie for Alabama, which hasn't been beaten in 25 games, and the Tide breezed 35-21 over Vanderbilt.

North Carolina State unloaded in the second half for its fifth straight victory, beating Maryland 31-9 after trailing 3-0 at the half.

Fired-up Mississippi overcame a 14-12 halftime deficit as a fumble led to a 22-yard field goal by Jimmy Keyes and a 60-yard punt return and a pass interception led to two more scores in the second half.

Kansas completely tamed Nebraska as it handed the Cornhuskers their first shutout in six years under Bob Devaney. Bob Douglass passed and ran the Jayhawks to their touchdown while Nebraska threatened only once in the game.

Tennessee put its claim on the Top Ten with an impressive 24-13 victory over Georgia Tech and Michigan State smashed Michigan 34-0 in other big games.

Navy beat Syracuse 27-14 in the East's top game, Texas edged Oklahoma 9-7, Rice mauled Northwestern 50-6, Arkansas and Baylor tied 10-10 and Washington, USC's next opponent, tumbled Oregon 26-0.

RIALTO

Good boys steal, too.

Your boy wouldn't steal a car. Probably not. But every day 1,000 cars are stolen by teen-agers. Many younger than 16. Very often it is a sudden impulse in a boy who has everything, needs to steal nothing, a "good" boy. But your unlocked car with the keys in the ignition is a powerful temptation. An open invitation to a joyride. And a 200 times better chance of an accident—to him or someone else. You know what to do about it.

Don't help a good boy go bad. Lock your car. Take your keys.
